At a time when technology has the ability to frog leap us into the forefront of development it is critical to harness the transformative power of technology in driving socio-economic growth and sustainable development.

We have therefore repositioned to focus on the West Africa ecosystem using Nigeria as the hub to catapult the region into the forefront of global technological leadership.

This will help engage a wider audience of stakeholders, policy formulators, industry players, investors and innovators as we unlock the limitless potential of Nigeria's tech ecosystem.
